DETAILED ACTION

Claims 27-46 are pending.

Applicant's election on 6/13/2003 of group I, claims 27-38, 40 in the response to the restriction requirement of 5/29/2002 is acknowledged. However, upon further consideration, an additional restriction requirement is deemed proper. Specifically, Applicant's are required to further elect either SEQ ID NO:1 or SEQ ID NO:2 upon election of group I, claims 27-38, 40. Therefore, the restriction requirement of 5/29/2002 is withdrawn and the restriction requirement herein below is put forth.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 27-38 and 40, drawn to a recombinant virus and a method for producing such, classified in class 424, subclass 93.2.
- II. Claim 39 drawn to a method of screening recombinant viruses, classified in class 435, subclass 5.
- III. Claims 41-46, drawn to methods of using a recombinant virus in a cell, classified in class 514, subclass 44 or class 435, subclass 456.

Further, upon election of group I, claims 27-38, 40, Applicant's are required to elect either SEQ ID NO:1 or SEQ ID NO:2. Claim 37 of group I recites promoter polynucleotides comprising nucleic acid sequences of both SEQ ID NO:1 and SEQ ID

Art Unit: 1632

NO:2. It is noted that this is a restriction requirement and not a species election since the nucleic acid of SEQ ID NO:1 is structurally distinct from the nucleic acid of SEQ ID NO:2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Invention I and inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of invention I can be used in a diagnostic method for monitoring cancer, making transgenic knockout animals or in vaccinating against tumors. In addition the method of invention III can be practiced by substituting the TERT promoter of invention I with any one of a number of tumor-specific promoters, including e.g. prostate specific antigen (PSA) promoter.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the methods of inventions II and III are not disclosed as being used together. The method of invention II requires different method steps, has a different mode of operation and produces a different outcome from the method of invention III. For example, the method of invention II requires a step of selecting a virus if it preferentially kills cells expressing TERT, a step not required for the method of invention III. Further, invention II is a method for selecting a virus while invention III is a method of regulating replication of a recombinant virus and as such the intended goals of invention II and III are unrelated.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for group I is not required for groups II and III, and vice versa, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Art Unit: 1632

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
